Circling s Big Plane Over Hamlin Friday

Residents of this vicinity had sudden care Friday night when a B-17 Flying Fortress circled main street four times.

When the crew on the plane began flashing navigation lights and dropping flares, automobiles, fire trucks and an ambulance were sent out to provide light enough on a spot where the plane might have landed.

When a member of the crew saw the name of Hamlin at the top of a business place here, the position of the plane was determined and, although the gasoline tanks were nearly empty, the bomber was able to fly to Sweetwater before landing.

It was later learned that the crea had been in touch by radio with Tinker Field, Oklahoma, but it was not known whether or not the B-17 was based there.

Over 500 Cars of Wheat and Maize Shipped from Hamlin To Date Means Cash to Producers

When it comes to grain, wheat and combine maize, Hamlin, with two railroads serving the city-the M.K. & T. and Santa Fe-is indeed a grain empire judging by the cash money grain means to Hamlin.

Tate May, president of the Farmers & Merchants National Bank, and W. C. Russell, vice president and cashier, furnish The Herald with figures on grain shipments, to date. 1945, that will prove of interest.

The Hamlin area has made an unusually good wheat crop, with yields ranging from 15 to 20 bushels per acre. To date 275 carloads of wheat have been shipped from Hamlin.

Plainsman, or combine milo maize, is another major cash crop, and so far 280 carloads of combine grain have been shipped from Hamlin. Although some dry weather prevailed throughout a portion of the summer, combine maize yields have ranged from 1,500 pounds per acre to over 2,000 pounds per acre.

When one considers the fact each carload of grain shipped from Hamin means from $2,000 to $2,500, value of the cash crops can be readily ascertained.

The 555 carloads of wheat and maize shipped from Hamlin so far for 1945 means, in return, many new synthetic tires and tubes for motorists of this area, new paints and varnishes, industrial alchohol, flour, cereals and other foods and many of the conveniences of modern civil-

Spiritual Values Are Important

One of the first things that impressed us with Hamlin was the number of fine churches in the town. Churches are not only a stabilizing influence in any community, but reflect something of the spiritual evaluation citizens place upon the town as a center for private and public life.

A city of churches is always an aggressive city. Its people are ever inspired by eternal values to keep striving and working for a richer community and a nobler world is which to work and play.

Schools Are Down to Business

With the peak of war-time upheavals behind us, we are fortunate in our county in having a public school system that is staffed with well qualified intructors, and in being able to provide an education for our boys and girls when millions of children overseas will do well to keep from starving by masses this winter. Overseas, education has been halted in many provinces, since life is hanging upon the ability to obtain such simple food as bread.

Our schools are doing a mighty fine class of work, for it is possible to offer more standardization in courses and teachers are making boys and girls substantial citizens.

Our school, unspoiled by a single bomb, are indeed the backbone of ur civilization, and only through the preservation of our free public schools can we keep this nation great.

The Herald Has Great History

This week's issue of The Herald will be No. 3 on the forty-first year of being, and though The Herald has a new owner, policies of the retiring publisher will be adhered to and the prime objective will be marching forward with Hamlin.

The retiring publisher, who has seen the population of Hamlin triple, has given Hamlin area folks a good, solid newspaper, and in the future the policy will be to give Hamlin the best weekly newspaper possible for human hands and minds to produce.

The Herald will always strive to build constructively and will not be a party to forces which tend to tear down a community or its people. We have been in West Texas many years, and as one West Texan to another, we find it the greatest country in the world in which to live. Forward with Hamlin and its civic enterprise, forward with its churches and schools to a greater community, a more unified nation and a more humane brotherhood of man should be our watchword.

Our People Will Not Fail Others

Sharing the care in the United War Chest drive and the Victory War Bond campaigns underway in Jones County is best being shown by the way Jones Countians are chipping in and buying their part of bonds and contributing to the War Chest drive in order that we may now win the peace.

Through the United War Chest campaign Hamlin people have the opportunity of helping provide entertainment for the thousands of GI Joes who must remain is hospitals for many months ahead, and in the media for the USO providing entertainment for the thousands of our boys yet in foreign lands.

Sharing the care in the U. S. War Bonds is backing the federal government by our investments so it can carry on through the current fiscal year; keep allotment checks flowing to veterans' wives and pay the transportation bill for the GI Joes who will get to come home in the near future.

What Contemporaries Are Saying

HIGGINS VERSUS RACKETEERS

Andrew J. Higgins may be wrong. He may be wrong. But we admire

the courage of Andrew J. Higgins.

He is, if you do not already know, the New Orleans boat builder whose small boat building business mushroomed into one of the biggest fighting craft manufacturing industries of World War II.

This week Higgins announced he had closed shop in New Orleans, although he had $40,000,000 worth of orders on his hands for his peacetime products.

The boat builder said he was called it "quits' because he was tired of being harrassed by organized labor and government agencies.

He said he did not blame organized labor as a whole, but "vicious and pigmy-minded" local labor leaders. Moreover, Higgins said, his company had been put in "an untenable position" by the National War Labor Board's insistence that he continue to negotiate a contract with AFL unions while the National Labor Relations Board insisted that he bargain with

No one, included Boatbuilder Higgins, is opposed to organized labor so long as the labor leaders work for the general good of all laborers, and not for their own self-aggrandizement. No one is opposed to organized labor when it seeks to work for the benefit of the laboring man as well as that of the employer.

The activities of labor groups in the United States are becoming sour to a vast number of people. In the long run labor groups may discover they have lost a great deal more during these crucial days than they have gained.

Andrew J. Higgins may have revealed the formula which will bring about the salvation of the whole industrial set-up, as well as bringing labor leaders to their senses.

If other industrial leaders would join Boatbuilder Higgins in closing up their factories until labor groups are ready to make a fair and equitable adjustment of their difference, then a lot of this unhealthy disturbance that is sweeping the country might disappear.—The Nolan County News.

regulations and fair practices.

But when government goes into business and competes with its own citizens, the American tradition of fair play is set aside. The referee then becomes a player, and he enjoys advantages that are denied to all the other players in the game.

Government-owned electric power systems, for example, pay no taxes. When they need capital, they get your tax money at little or no interest from the U. S. Treasury. To cover operating losses-an accepted political condition-you, as a taxpayer, will take care of that.

Business-managed power systems-unlike tax subsidized political methods-do not have these special privileges. They are not tax dodgers, they pay their full share of taxes, pay fair interest on public loans. Fortunately for you and your tax bill, over 80 per cent of all the electric power in this country is produced by tax-paying, self-supporting electric companies, owned and operated by several million folks like you.

Conference attendants from Jones and other counties listened enrapt Sunday morning at the St. Paul Methodist Church as Bishop Selecman preached on "I Am Apprehended of Christ Jesus." Before the sermon an old fashioned love feast ran for more than an hour under direction of Rev. J. T. Griswold, Abilene retired minister.

THE COST GOES

IT WILL COST MILLIONS TO BRING OUR ARMIES BACK and it's just as expensive as it was taking them over. Meanwhile, thousands of our men who stay behind in occupied territory must receive their pay, be clothed, housed and fed at Uncle Sam's expense,

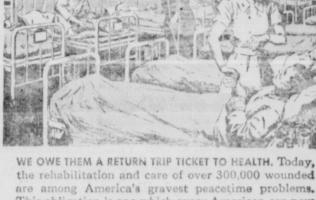

UNCLE SAM MUST STILL PAY FOR THESE. Although

America had already started to cut down on production of various kinds of war materials, the swift ending of the war left many planes, tanks, battleships, guns, made at the last minute, still to be paid for.

This obligation is one which every American can now share in-by investing in the Great Victory Loan.

America Must Take Care of Her Own In the Great Victory Loan!

Tr's too much to expect that the cost of a war which lasted many years can just stop overnight. Although the fighting is over the paying has to go on for some time to come.

So once more it's ALL TOGETHER in America's Great Victory Loan. Start off your own peace and prosperity-and your country'sright by investing in the biggest quota of bonds you've ever bought.

Spiritual Values Are Important

One of the first things that impressed us with Hamlin was the number of fine churches in the town. Churches are not only a stabilizing influence in any community, but reflect something of the spiritual evaluation citizens place upon the town as a center for private and public life.

A city of churches is always an aggressive city. Its people are ever inspired by eternal values to keep striving and working for a richer community and a nobler world is which to work and play.

Schools Are Down to Business

With the peak of war-time upheavals behind us, we are fortunate in our county in having a public school system that is staffed with well qualified intructors, and in being able to provide an education for our boys and girls when millions of children overseas will do well to keep from starving by masses this winter. Overseas, education has been halted in many provinces, since life is hanging upon the ability to obtain such simple

Our schools are doing a mighty fine class of work, for it is possible to offer more standardization in courses and teachers are making boys and girls substantial citizens.

Our school, unspoiled by a single bomb, are indeed the backbone of aur civilization, and only through the preservation of our free public schools can we keep this nation great.

The Herald Has Great History

This week's issue of The Herald will be No. 3 on the forty-first year of being, and though The Herald has a new owner, policies of the retiring publisher will be adhered to and the prime objective will be marching forward with Hamlin.

The retiring publisher, who has seen the population of Hamlin triple, has given Hamlin area folks a good, solid newspaper, and in the future the policy will be to give Hamlin the best weekly newspaper possible for human hands and minds to produce.

The Herald will always strive to build constructively and will not be a party to forces which tend to tear down a community or its pelople. We have been in West Texas many years, and as one West Texan to another, we find it the greatest country in the world in which to live. Forward with Hamlin and its civic enterprise, forward with its churches and schools to a greater community, a more unified nation and a more humane brotherhood of man should be our watchword.

What Contemporaries Are Saying

HIGGINS VERSUS RACKETEERS

Andrew J. Higgins may be wrong. He may be wrong. But we admire

the courage of Andrew J. Higgins.

He is, if you do not already know, the New Orleans boat builder whose small boat building business mushroomed into one of the biggest fighting craft manufacturing industries of World War II.

This week Higgins announced he had closed shop in New Orleans, although he had $40,000,000 worth of orders on his hands for his peacetime products.

The boat builder said he was called it "quits' because he was tired of being harrassed by organized labor and government agencies.

He said he did not blame organized labor as a whole, but "vicious and pigmy-minded" local labor leaders. Moreover, Higgins said, his company had been put in "an untenable position" by the National War Labor Board's insistence that he continue to negotiate a contract with AFL unions while the National Labor Relations Board insisted that he bargain with the CIO.

No one, included Boatbuilder Higgins, is opposed to organized labor so long as the labor leaders work for the general good of all laborers, and not for their own self-aggrandizement. No one is opposed to organized labor when it seeks to work for the benefit of the laboring man as well as that of the employer.

The activities of labor groups in the United States are becoming sour to a vast number of people. In the long run labor groups may discover they have lost a great deal more during these crucial days than they have gained.

Andrew J. Higgins may have revealed the formula which will bring about the salvation of the whole industrial set-up, as well as bringing labor leaders to their senses.

If other industrial leaders would join Boatbuilder Higgins in closing up their factories until labor groups are ready to make a fair and equitable adjustment of their difference, then a lot of this unhealthy disturbance that is sweeping the country might disappear. The Nolan County News.

Contentment is a pearl of great price, and whoever procures it at the expense of ten thousand desires makes a wise and happy purchase .-

But when government goes into business and competes with its own citizens, the American tradition of fair play is set aside. The referee then becomes a player, and he enjoys advantages that are denied to all the other players in the game.

Government-owned electric power systems, for example, pay no taxes. When they need capital, they get your tax money at little or no interest from the U.S. Treasury. To cover operating losses-an accepted political condition-you, as a taxpayer, will take care of that.

Business-managed power systems-unlike tax subsidized political methods-do not have these special privileges. They are not tax dodgers, they pay their full share of taxes, pay fair interest on public loans. Fortunately for you and your tax bill, over 80 per cent of all the electric power in this country is produced by tax-paying, self-supporting electric companies, owned and operated by several million folks like you.

Dunwody Remembers Country Printer Days

Bill Dunwody, Jones County sheriff, not only has an uncanny memor; for faces he may have seen 25 to 30 years ago, but like many other professional people used to be country printer. Sheriff Dunwody knows what type stick means, and in his younge days worked at various newspape shops-jobs that lasted from one two days to several weeks.

The Herald doesn't know, course, but it suspects that the coun ty sheriff, if need be, could still do an apron and in emergency could help get out a paper or some rusk job orders with plenty of honor.
